

When should I begin the short sale process? - Orange County Real Estate

Written by Administrator
Friday, 12 June 2009 19:04 -

Immediately, foreclosure and short sale situations tend to be extremely time sensitive and consuming for negotiations. The sooner we can begin the negotiations with your lender, the greater the chances of a successful resolution. There is no need to wait until the lender sends you a notice of default or initiates formal foreclosure proceedings against you. Time is of the essence! Joomla SEF URLs by Artio